

Summer 1

Portraiture

This term the children will be looking at portraits and self-portraits.

Week 1:

Explore the artist, Andy Warhol. Create a mood board with pictures, information and experiment in his style.

On May 6th King Charles will be coronated. In honour of this, create a portrait of King Charles in any style you like using a choice of medium. All completed images will be entered into the ISA Art Challenge.

Week 2:

Explore the artist Amedeo Modigliani. Create a mood board with pictures, information, and experiment in his style.

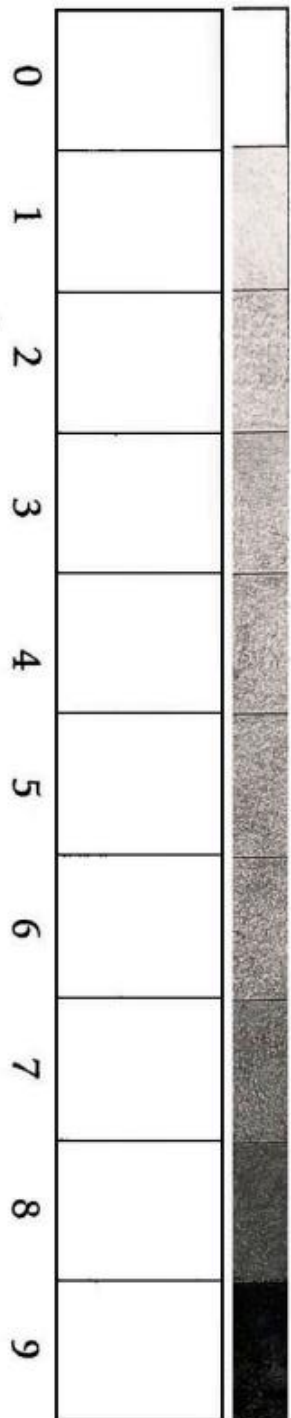

This week will be focusing on our pencil techniques. Use the worksheets to help you practise your skills. If you're feeling confident create a self portrait using your new pencil skills.

Value Scale - shade each box matching the value above.
Start with the lightest value using the side of your pencil

Name _____

Period _____

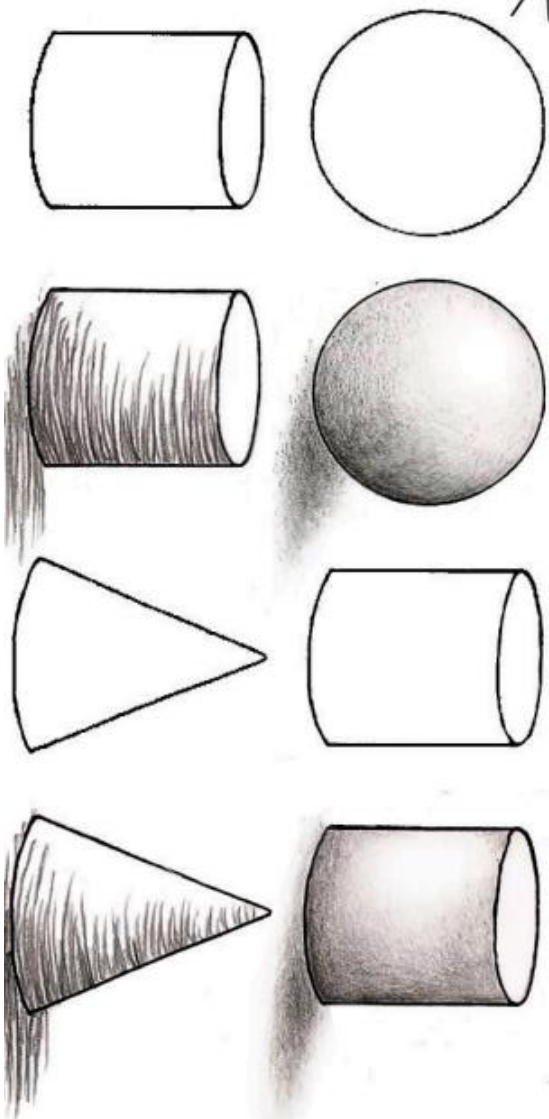

Blending - Shade the shapes on the right with the side of your pencil blending from your lightest value to darkest

Shade the next 2 rows with lines using the tip of your pencil. Values appear darker when lines are closer together

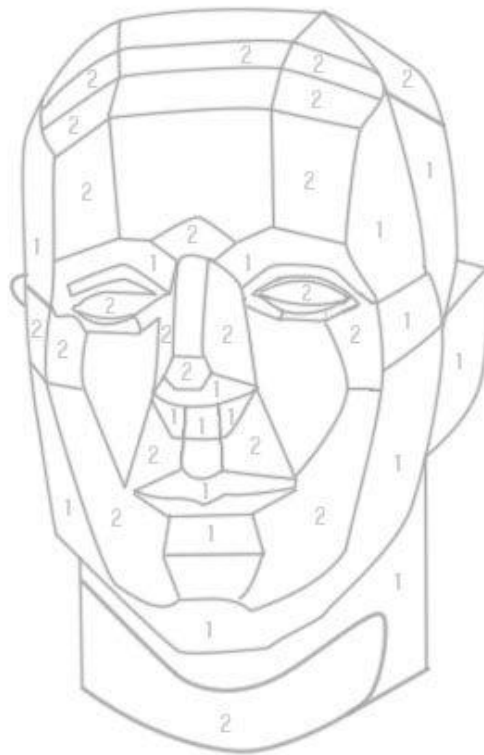

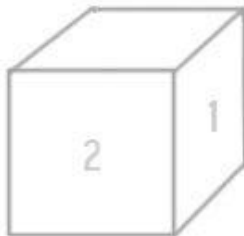

Hatching - Lines in one direction

NAME _____

SHADE BY NUMBER: PLANES OF THE FACE

DIRECTIONS - Fill in each numbered shape with the corresponding value. Value 1 should be as dark as your pencil will allow. Value 2 should be a mid value. Leave any un-numbered shape white.

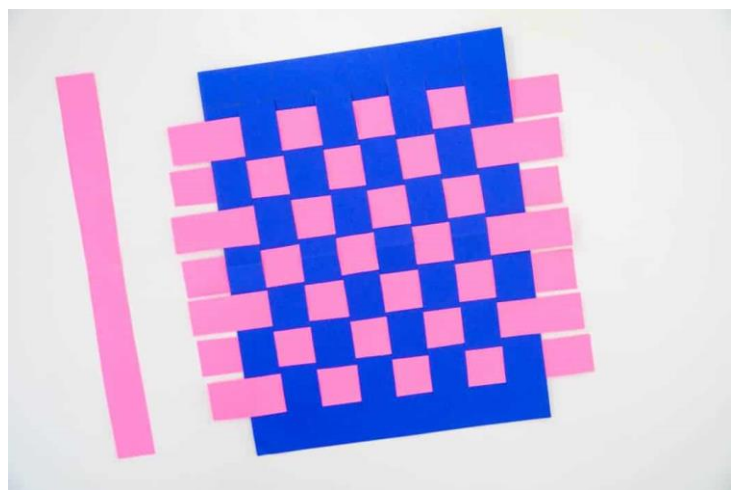

Week 3:

Explore the artist, Suzanne Valadon. Create a mood board with pictures, information, and experiment in his style.

Create two self-portraits, you can do them in the same style or in different ones. Cut one of them vertically and one horizontally. Weave the two together to create a creative self-portrait. Once you've made the first one, have a go at making more in different styles.

Week 4:

Explore the artist, Gustav Klimt. Create a mood board with pictures, information, and experiment in his style.

This week we will be preparing for our final piece: a self-portrait in oil paint. Prepare for your final piece by choosing your image and drawing it onto your canvas or paper.

Week 5/6 will be spent painting your portrait, using oil paints. If you are working from home, you can collect materials that you need from school or use what you have at home.
